Unique, quaint and potential are all important features when investing into property. One knows when a property comes along, such as this one, you should not procrastinate, as it may be too late!

Solid brick in construction, this dwelling can easily accommodate an extension, renovate further, or you can happily reside very comfortably as is. There are plenty of options, so the choice is yours, it could be a project for down the track as your family grows.

You are only limited by your imagination and budget.

This attractive home comprises two bedrooms, both including built in robes, and a smaller third or optional study which are conveniently located around the hub of the house. The up dated kitchen includes a dishwasher, plus a split system which is located adjacent the lounge room allowing all year round comfort throughout. Not to mention the solid wood heater located in the lounge room making life even cosier during the cooler months.

Stepping outdoors, one will appreciate the 12mt x 6mt shed, being roughly half garage and half carport. Sited on an allotment of approximately 768m²,
