SOLD at Auction

Auction Location: on site.

Are you searching for a VERY centrally located property? Have you've been hunting that illusive character property with the view to renovate into your dream home? Alternately find a great locality to build the home you necessitate. Or maybe, you are seeking a property to further develop, whether it is a sub division offering a new two lot unit development or perhaps renovate the original home then offer a parcel at the rear... all subject to council approval of course. Whichever option sounds interesting, here is a home in a prime location to invest into now or for the future.

Sited in a very handy area, only one house from Colac Area Health and the Woolworths Supermarket. Also two blocks from the railway station, and the central business area of Colac. This is certainly a situation whereby one does not need a car to access all Colac has to offer, and would be very attractive to people with mobility restraints.
