Spacious unit

What impressed me most about this immaculately maintained unit, is its space and functional floorplan.

This front unit, has been recently freshly painted throughout, with new vinyl and some renewed carpets. The owner has meticulously maintained this home to her credit.

Step into the front entry, and you will immediately be impressed by the spacious design.

This functional area adjoins the spacious open living/ lounge room, allowing even the larger family gatherings to be catered for comfortably. The kitchen offers ample storage, and includes a large island bench, ideal for that quick meal or snack, plus the dishwasher to cater for the after meal clean up.

Soak up an abundance of natural light, as this property is North facing. The whole property throughout, even including the three great sized bedrooms, are bathed with natural light.
